PARTY ABOVE COUNTRY!

"While I favor passing the Tariff bill, sooner than that this Congress should not pass the Federal Elections bill I would prefer to see every manufacturing establishment in Massachusetts burned to ashes and the people of that State required to labor in callings in which they could not make more than 50 cents a day and be required to live on codfish."—Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts.

INDEPENDENTISM.

From every section of the State we learn that the township meetings and primaries have been more largely attended than ever before in the history of the State. The contest for nominations have been spirited, and the friends of the different aspirants have worked with a zeal seldom known. Of course there have been disappointments, and disappointment is still in store for other excellent gentlemen who hope to be nominated for the various offices in the gift of the people.

The CHRONICLE rejoices in the deep interest which the people are taking in the selection of their officers. It angers well for a sweeping Democratic victory in November. The presence of great numbers in the township meetings and at the primaries is guarantee of a big vote for the lucky man, for every man who attends these meetings is bound by the most solemn obligations, which no honorable man would seek to evade, to give the nominee his earnest support. It is a fixed principle, which every honorable man holds as binding as the most solemn oath, that if he goes into a convention, from the lowest to the highest, he thereby pledges his sacred honor to support the nominee of his party. This is true quite as much if a man is a candidate or only a voter for his favorite.

There has been loose talk now and then that the Alliance would not support this or that nominee if their favorite was defeated in the Convention. The CHRONICLE has never attached much importance to this claim because the members of the Alliance are honorable men, and having gone into a convention, they are pledged in all honor to support the nominee; and for the further reason that the majority of the nominees in the State this year are members of the Alliance, and these Alliance nominees cannot be elected unless they secure the support of Democrats who are ineligible to membership in the Alliance. The Atlanta Constitution happily puts it this way: The members of the Alliance in the South, certainly, if not elsewhere, spell Alliance with a big A, and Democracy with a big D.

Commenting upon the attempt made in Georgia to get Alliancemen who were defeated for the nomination, to run as Independents, the Southern Alliance Farmer (the organ of the Georgia State Alliance) states about Georgia what is equally true of North Carolina. It says:

On more than one instance alliancemen who have been defeated have refused positively to run as independent candidates, and at the earnest request of men who have heretofore been organized! Democrats, and who are not now members of the Alliance, but in every instance these Alliancemen have refused to run independently, and are solid for Democratic unity and Democratic success; in fact, the great brotherhood of Georgia is essentially Democratic, and will most certainly repudiate any man who enters the field as an independent candidate. The Alliance has taken a hand in the politics of the country, not to disrupt, but to solidify the Democratic party. Their mission is to make it worthy of the respect and confidence of the people, and no member of our order who proposes to bring shame upon the organization by trying to disrupt the white man's party of Georgia and of the South, will be countenanced in it. It is also the policy of the order to do all in its power to forward the interests of the regular Democratic nominees, and, like every good citizen, when we have made an effort to elect a man who is in sympathy with us and have failed, we stand by the nominee of the party and do all we can to make his candidacy and his work for the people a grand success. * * *

The word independent, as applied to candidates, means independent of the Democratic party. As there are but two parties in the South, to be independent of the Democratic party, means to be dependent on the Republican party, therefore, we fail to see the difference between a candidate who is wholly dependent upon the Republican party, and one who comes out squarely and announces himself upon the Republican platform. Other men may see this difference from what we do, and, of course, all are entitled to their own opinion, but the Democratic party is the dominant party in this State, to be independent of it is to be dependent upon the opposing faction.

These are honest, patriotic and wise words, and they will be endorsed by every patriotic son of North Carolina. The condition in Georgia is identical with that of North Carolina. The people are alike and their interests are common.
The position of the North Carolina Alliancemen is stated above as well as if we should insert "North Carolina" in the above article where "Georgia" appears.

A GOOD WAY TO COUNT THEM.

It has long been desired to find a way to correctly count the number of white Republicans in North Carolina. There is a newspaper published in Greensboro by negroes which gives this as the way: If you want to know the exact number of white Republicans there is in North Carolina give us the number of offices in the State, among which is distributed $400,000 and we will give you the name and number if desired.

If the Progress will add to this: "and the kicking fellows who expected to get an office and failed," it will have given an accurate and true definition.

The Executive Committee of the University of North Carolina, in order to provide assistance in the new department of Civil, Electric, &c., Engineering, have, with the strong endorsement of the Professors of Mathematics and Engineering in the University of Vermont, chosen Mr. GEORGE H. CLAPLIN, of New York, Instructor in Mathematics and Drawing. Mr. CLAPLIN stood at the head of his class in mathematics and took the degree of C. E. with honor. He has successful experience as a teacher.

The Asheville Citizen has improved 1,000 per cent, and is now one of our ablest and brightest exchanges; and the best part of it, it is Democratic to the core.

A GOOD TICKET.

A Word About the Legislative Nominees in Granville.
(Oxford Public Ledger.)

The Legislative ticket is good, very good.
Senator G. N. Allen is the brother of Alvis Allen, who was so much beloved in this county. He is a strong man, and in nominating Bobbitt for Clerk showed that he could do credit to old Granville on the floor of the Senate.

W. T. Adams is as "wise as a serpent and as harmless as a dove." He deserves the success he has attained and he will by his counsel and advice add much to the ticket.

J. F. Cole, for the House, is a successful farmer. He has good, honest blood in his veins, and is beloved by all his neighbors. He is close akin to John H.
Webb, Esq., and the Mortons, and we expect to have in him a safe and prudent Legislator.

SENATOR VANCE.

A North Carolina Boy in Tennessee Uses a Sam Jones Illustration.
[Special Cor. of STATE CHRONICLE.]

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., July 28.—The friends of Senator Vance, in Tennessee, have read, with interest and approval, your manly and just defence of North Carolina's greatest statesman; and it is predicted, in the language of Sam Jones, that "when the smoke of battle shall have cleared away 'Our Zeb' will be standing at the trough serenely feeding, with the left hand 'gallus' of the fellow who tried to down him wrapped around his right hind leg." F. P. B.

A Chatham Echo.

[Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE].
Please give place to the following, from the Burlington News:

"From a friend in Chatham we learn that the name of Edwin W. Atwater, of Chatham county, will be put forward by his friends as the Democratic candidate for the Senate in Alamance and Chatham. Alamance will take great pride in voting for such a man as the one named above, and will, if put up, carry Alamance county."

Miss Stubbs has resigned the editorship of the Orphans' Friend and will soon leave for New York. Miss Mattie Rountree, teacher of the third succeeds Miss Stubbs as editor of the Friend, and Miss Martha Wyche, sister of Dr. J. E.
Wyche, succeeds Miss Rountree.—Oxford Public Ledger.

JUDGE WHITAKER MAKES DE-NIAL.

CONNELLY SPRINGS, N. C. Aug. 12, '90.
JOSEPHUS DANIELS, Esq.,

MY DEAR SIR:—I ask a little space in the columns of the CHRONICLE for the purpose of vindicating, if I can, the reputation of several of my fellow citizens, which has been grossly assailed. Nothing but a regard for the character of my State and the good name of some of her people who have been honored by her, induces me to enter an arena from which I have retired, and in which I found far less peace than I desired.

I have not seen the anonymous circular which has been circulated, needlessly—the attention of some of the newspapers. I have heard, however, that after relating certain facts, it makes the charge of corruption against three or four of our people who occupy high public positions and whose character ought, therefore, to be dear to every citizen of the State. Three of these gentlemen, for reasons satisfactory to themselves, have made, or authorized, a positive and indignant denial of the impeachment to which the circular subjects them. Another has remained silent, depending, as I suppose, upon his character and position to defend him against an assault made by some one who has not the manliness to assume the responsibility of an open charge.

No man of intelligence can deny the wisdom and justice of the rule which guarantees to every one, however humble, the right to face his accuser. All the gentlemen who have been attacked by one who has hurled his shafts in the dark, might have refused, with propriety, as it seems to me, to notice an assault, who had so little confidence in the strength of his cause as to make him fear to meet them on equal terms. But as three of those who have been impeached have seen proper to waive their right, I beg now to say something in behalf of him who is now the subject of criticism, because of his silence.

I have seen Judge Whitaker within the past two days, and had a long, and as I believe, a candid conversation with him, touching the subject to which I have referred. I did not ask his permission to make public what I shall say, nor did he authorize me to do so. The responsibility of the publication I assume, as a matter of justice to him and to the people of the State.

If Judge Whitaker had seen proper to notice the charge, I feel authorized to state he would have said first, that Judge Clark was a candidate for the nomination for Governor of the State and declined before the convention assembled; second, that Gov. Fowle was nominated and elected; third, that after the death of Chief Justice Smith and the appointment of Judge Merrimon as his successor, Judge Clark was made the successor of Judge Merrimon as an Associate Justice; and fourth, that he was made a Superior Court Judge to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Judge Clark. But as to the alleged bargain and corruption, he knows nothing of it, nor of anything which would justify such a charge. In addition to this, he does not believe it. In regard to the allegations made against him, involving his integrity, he would characterize them as basely false and cowardly.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
WALTER L. STEELE.

When the circular first appeared the CHRONICLE sent a representative of the paper to all the gentlemen, and in reply GOVERNOR FOWLE, JUDGE CLARK and COL. ANDREWS, authorized us to denounce it as foully false. JUDGE WHIT-AKER declined to make a statement, and we then called upon him, in these columns, in justice to himself, and as a duty he owed the party, to make a statement. We think that he ought to have made it at once. And we sent our reporter to him at once, as to the other gentlemen, solely for the purpose of getting at all the facts. For reasons satisfactory to himself, JUDGE WHITAKER did not answer.
The denial made for him by COL. STEELE is explicit, and we are glad that it has been made. We knew that when JUDGE WHITAKER spoke, either by himself or through his friend, he would be compelled to deny the whole lie. He not only does that, but declares that he does not believe it. The statement made by COL. STEELE will be received as from JUDGE WHITAKER. The high character of COL. STEELE is guarantee that the statement he makes is entitled to the fullest credit.

We hope that this will settle the talk about this outrageous and contemptible slander. Nothing out of the denial of JUDGE WHITAKER (which would have been in better taste if authorized promptly) could fully settle the matter, though this statement does not in the least affect the belief of the people of the State so far as the other gentlemen are concerned. The people had long ago repudiated the falsehood of the circular, and the Governor and JUDGE CLARK stood fair in their esteem. But its puts JUDGE WHITAKER in the light of doing justice to himself as well as others, and gives not an iota of ground for the base assertions of the corrupt, or the honest suspicions of those who do not know all the parties. As the matter stood, there were those who stated in private and there were newspapers who printed in their columns that the State Convention could not next week nominate both JUSTICE CLARK and JUDGE WHITAKER. Silence upon the part of JUDGE WHITAKER was construed by most people into a semi-endorsement of the anonymous circular or an acquiescence in the statements.
His statement, made for him by COL.
STEELE, shows that there was no such combination, and that there was no ground for the libel, and that he does not believe it.

Granville county Democratic convention nominated the following ticket: For Sheriff, Jas. A. Crews, Jr. For Clerk Superior Court, W. A. Bobbitt.
Treasurer, S. W. Cooper. Register of Deeds, R. J. Daniel. Coroner, J. A.
Renn. For the Senate, G. Allen.
House, W. T. Adams and J. F. Cole.

A CASE OF BLOOD POISONING.

A Father Restored to Consciousness by the Arrival of His Son.

(Greensboro Patriot.)

Mr. A. H. Dudley, the well known groceryman of South Elm street, has been suffering for some time from disease of the kidneys. On Tuesday last, his wife went into the store and discovered that Mr. Dudley was delirious, though still standing at his desk, with his open account books before him. After some time she finally persuaded him to rest on a sofa in the adjoining room.
A physician was summoned at once and pronounced Mr. Dudley as suffering from blood poisoning caused by excess of uric acid in the blood. His symptoms rapidly grew worse until his life was despaired of. His son, Mr. O.
E. Dudley, a prominent druggist of New York City, and his daughter, Mrs. W.
Williams, were telegraphed for. His son arrived Thursday night and happened to the bedside of his father, who was still delirious. In a short while after his son came into the room Mr. Dudley suddenly became conscious and has been improving steadily since, and is now thought to be out of danger.
The doctors, we are told, attributed the sudden restoration to consciousness to the presence of his son. We hope soon to see Mr. Dudley in his accustomed place again.

CARPETS.

This one item, and it's a big one with us, should be considered by every one intending to buy any kind of floor covering.

We are in better shape than ever, for this season of the year, to show carpets, as we have been buying liberally, and almost every freight brings something new.

The demand for carpets has been unusually heavy for this month, and that, with some alterations that we have been making, has kept this department in some disorder, but now we are about straight, and can show carpets with all our accustomed conveniences.

As to prices, all we will say is that during August you can get prices that you can't get after Sept. 1st.

As to the quality of stock we carry, you haven't an idea, until you come and see; and in the medium grades, we really have for you some of the choicest patterns, and at prices that the same goods have not been offered at in the city.

Will cheerfully submit samples to our out-of-town patrons.
